

DISCUSSION WAS VERY SPIRITED

Montgomery's Application For Stoughton Franchise Bitterly Opposed By Many Interests At Madison.

JANESVILLE WELL REPRESENTED

L. B. Carle, Mayor Heddles, Thos. S. Nolan and Others Objected To The Seclusion Of Janesville From Interurban Connections With Capital City.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 2.—If the Wisconsin railway commission grants a franchise to any company to build an electric road from Madison to Stoughton and not clear through to Janesville, the weight of the arguments made before that august body yesterday will stand for naught. An adjournment for ten days so that written objections can be filed and after that a date for a hearing where sworn testimony is to be heard on the Montgomery application for a road to Stoughton has delayed matters for a month at least. General opinion is that under the weight of the testimony presented at the hearing yesterday, however, the Montgomery franchise asked for will not be granted.

Well Represented
Janesville was well represented at the hearing. Thos. Nolan, representing the interests of the Janesville-Madison Interurban Co., asked for not only delay but also a rejection of the Montgomery proposition to have a franchise for a road from Madison to Stoughton. Mayor S. B. Heddles voiced the sentiment of Janesville and its businessmen when he asked that the commission do nothing that excludes Janesville from the rights of an interurban clear through to Madison. L. B. Carle also spoke on the proposition, but asked the commission to include Janesville in any franchise they might grant.

Much Objection
The meeting was held in the rate commission's room. B. M. Hafford of Madison represented several property-holders who objected to the line of survey saying it would do their property great injury. City Attorney John Aylward of Madison spoke for the city of Madison, objecting strenuously to the proposition as one which was not feasible and which was dangerous.

TOBACCO GROWERS' TRUST IS PROPOSED

Plans for Controlling Wisconsin Market Will Be Made at State Convention.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 2.—Thomas Emerson, president of the State American Society of Equity, who has called a meeting of the tobacco growers' department of the society to be held at Madison on October 9th and 10th, expects that this will be the largest meeting of tobacco growers ever held in the state. The principal object is to devise and adopt a plan to control the marketing of the Wisconsin tobacco crop, also to make arrangements for handling and storing of the crop. If necessary, delegates to the national convention of tobacco growers, October 20, at Louisville, Ky., will be chosen.

ALTON PROBE PUT OFF THREE WEEKS

Action Which Grew Out of Standard Oil Conviction Delayed by Prosecution.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 2.—The grand jury investigation of charges against the Alton railroad in connection with rebates said to have been granted to the Standard Oil company, was today postponed until Sept. 24. District Attorney Sims requested the postponement of the investigation because he had come into possession of certain important facts and circumstances which he desired to submit to the department of justice at Washington before proceeding with the inquiry.

signed merely to give Mr. Montgomery a hold on the situation so that he might exclude any other road that would like to build. Mayor Schubert of Madison was also strenuous in his opposition and Attorney Charles Lamb spoke for several clients who had property interests which would be injured by the proposed road.

Adjourned
Chairman Meyer of the commission then adjourned the hearing until September 10 when the written objections will be filed and a date for a second hearing, when sworn testimony is to be taken. It is safe to say that Janesville will not be left out of consideration when the proper time comes.

Nolan's Statement
In his talk before the commission Mr. Nolan made the statement that should Mr. Clough be unable to finance his proposition he had talked with Mr. Dayles, president of the Rockford Interurban Co., and had been given to understand that this company would build the proposed line, taking over Mr. Clough's franchise, his surveys, and rights of way. It was also intimated at the hearing that a new road was projected which would mean actual beginning of the work of survey and securing rights of way immediately if the present franchise was rejected.

Road Seems Certain
All the testimony introduced before the commission seemed to point to a road being built to Janesville in the immediate future. In fact, this was said in so many words. Mr. Montgomery's attorney stated to the commission that his idea in applying for a franchise was merely to have a road built so that present prospects are bright for a road being built between the two cities even if Montgomery falls in his present application for a road to Stoughton only.

STANDARD TRIAL STARTED IN ST. LOUIS IS TAKEN UP

Oil Magnates Will Probably Be Put On Stand To Testify For Defense Which Is Being Pressed By Government.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 2.—Before the smoke of the recent legal battle before Judge Landis in Chicago has cleared away the government has again taken up its warfare on the Standard Oil company. Before Judge Franklin Ferriss in this city today.

The suit in equity or ouster suit, filed in St. Louis, by which the government seeks to dissolve the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and enjoin it from receiving rebates and discrimination in rates, was taken up but postponed until Thursday. Prominent officials and representatives of the Standard Oil Co. are included in the list of witnesses and it is expected that before the present hearing is concluded John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers and such other Standard Oil magnates as live in this jurisdiction will be called to the stand.

The suit was filed in St. Louis early in the year, by order of Attorney General Bonaparte. It will be tried before the judges of the circuit court of appeals sitting as a circuit court. The defense has questioned the jurisdiction of the court and has demurred to the bill, but was overruled in each instance.

The defendants in the case are John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, Henry M. Flagler, John D. Archbold, Oliver H. Payne, Charles M. Pratt, and seventy-one companies or corporations, including the Standard Oil company, the Water-Pierce

Oil company and the Republic Oil company. There is a long array of attorneys in the case. The attorneys for the government are Attorney General Charles J. Bonaparte and his assistants, Milton D. Purdy, of Washington; United States District Attorney Harry W. Blodgett of St. Louis and Frank A. Kellogg of St. Paul, who conducted for the government the investigation in the Harriman case last winter; C. B. Morrison of Chicago, and C. A. Sovereign of St. Paul.

For the defense there are eighteen attorneys of record. The principal attorneys are Judge H. S. Priest, John D. Johnson and George W. Winstead of St. Louis; John G. Johnson of Philadelphia; John G. Milburn, M. F. Ellett Martin and W. L. Lewis of New York; Gross, Minor & Miller of New York; Fessenden, Mackenzie & Woodcock of Lima, Ohio; Henry T. Rogers, Laurence M. Cuthbert, D. H. Ellis, and Horace N. Hawkins of Denver, and W. J. McKillop of Corsicana, Texas.

The defendants are charged with having violated the Sherman Anti-Trust act and with being a gigantic unlawful combination in restraint of trade. After the witnesses living in the jurisdiction of the court here have been examined, other districts in which defendants or witnesses reside will be visited for the same purpose. St. Louis, Chicago, Denver and Texas are among the localities where Judge Ferriss, who has been appointed a special examiner in the case, will take evidence.

PASSING OF THE ROUND-UP.
 Railroads Reaching Into Cattle Country Will End Picturesqueness.

That most picturesque feature of cattle raising on the western plains, the great "round up," will soon be among the things of the past. The railroads are stretching their long lines through the very heart of the range country and in place of the terminal station at which thousands of cattle were gathered from the surrounding country to be shipped to eastern markets there will be many stations at convenient distances and within easy reach of the diminishing herds that still crop fatness from the buffalo grass. The range "round up" was always a thrilling sight. Cattle from tens of thousands were sought out from the hills and valleys by scores of range riders, those bearing brands to be cut out in herds by themselves.
 There were many days of hard work for the cowboys, followed by many other days and nights of drinking and carousing, which lasted until the last train started on its eastern way.
 The great range is rapidly passing and in its place is coming the fenced pasture of the small farm. This change is gradual, but rapid. Thousands of range cattle are now sent to the corn states every year to be fattened for market, but with the development and settlement of the great range country the grass-fed steer will soon be a curiosity in the large stock yards.

HE'LL STICK TO HIS PIPE.
 One Man, at Least, Has the Courage of His Convictions.

One particular objection many of the men patrons have to the big paternal hotels in the cities is that they can't smoke their favorite pipes in the public halls without becoming the cynosure of all eyes. "The other evening," said a guest at the St. Regis, "I sat down in one of the comfortable armchairs in the hall to enjoy my old pipe that's been my constant friend for the last seven years. There were several people sitting near me most of whom were men, and one of two were smoking cigars or cigarettes.
 I didn't see a pipe in sight anywhere, and that made me a little uncertain as to whether I should be violating an etiquette rule of the house. I drew out my briar and, after I had got it going comfortably, I noticed that the guests near me began to melt away by ones and twos, until presently I was left with a good share of the hall to myself. Some of them did not leave the hall altogether, but moved to seats farthest from me. Of course, I knew what the cause was, but I didn't care. In my opinion, the man who smokes a pipe is a heap sight better than any downy man who smokes cigars and cigarettes."

SOLID AGAINST ANY MADISON TO STOUGHTON LINE

CITY FATHERS ADDRESS A MEM-ORIAL OF PROTEST TO STATE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

TO VISIT CAPITAL IN BODY

Edward Smith Named as Assistant Street Commissioner — Council, Meeting as Committee of the Whole, Will Take up Damage Claims—Other Business.

Resolutions addressed to the state railway commission, in protest against the granting to President Montgomery of the Madison traction company of certificates permitting the construction of an interurban line from the Capital city to Stoughton, were introduced by Ald. E. W. B.
Smith at the regular meeting of the city council last evening and passed by unanimous vote. The attention of the commission is called to the fact that the Janesville & Madison Co. has already obtained a franchise here and that there is every reason to believe that the work will be started within the time allotted; to the further fact that if the Chicago interests do not carry out their plans, others stand ready to take up the project; and finally, that the construction of the Montgomery substitute short-line would mean the retirement of all others from the field, leaving the Madison promoter in complete command of the situation and free to extend or purge an unprogressive doctrine.
Manager's policy according to the last provision of the franchise. The last provision of the franchise authorized Mayor Heddes to appoint a committee to appear before the commission and voice this city's protest against the granting of the certificates proposed for in Montgomery's petition.

Madison is Against It.
 That Janesville's alert chief executive does not hesitate to anticipate events when someone is needed. Janesville's protest, was evidenced by his opening announcement in a little speech he made just before the vote was taken on the resolutions. "I was in Madison today. My attention was called to the fact that this matter of granting certificates to Mr. Montgomery which would enable him to start a march on us, was coming up.
 Mr. L. B. Carter, Mr. Edgar, Mr. A.
 Wood of the Gazette and myself appeared before the commission and argued against the granting of certificates for an interurban railroad from Madison to Stoughton. The mayor and the members of the Madison city council are strongly opposed to the building of any road which does not reach Janesville. It is felt that both Janesville and Edgerton should join with Madison in urging the commission to authorize the building of no railroad which does not connect the three cities. It is, therefore, incumbent upon us to use all honorable means to bring it about that the line, when built, shall be a through line."

Committee is Appointed.
 At the conclusion of the hearing yesterday the railroad commission gave the Janesville party (which included H. H. Ziegler of Columbus, Ohio) ten days in which to file their protest in writing. The matter will, therefore, be taken up sometime after Sept. 12. Before adjournment last evening Mayor Heddes announced the appointment of a committee of protest consisting of City Attorney H. T. Maxfield and all the members of the city council, together with the following private citizens: L. B. Carter, M. G. Joffe, Geo. G. Sutherland, P.
 J. Mount, H. F. Hiles, William Hudson, A. E. Hingham, W. D. Now-house, P. H. Jackson, Donald Hayes, F. S. Hubert, and Stanford Sowerhill.
 The committee will be expected to go to Madison and appear before the commission when the matter is up for final argument and disposition.

$8,600 Claims Against City Claims against the city for damages aggregating $8,600 were filed by several owners of property on Garfield avenue and Wheeler street, as the result of grading operations conducted in Haverhill Park. John M. Whitehead wants $500; Frank W. Hahn, $700; Pauline Robinson, $3,000; and Emma J. Parnely, $2,500. Chairman
 J. J. Dunn of the Judiciary committee, to which these "G.O.Mo" notes were referred, asked that the council meet as a committee of the whole some afternoon at two o'clock to investigate the merits of the statements set forth by the claimants. It was decided advisable to delay consideration of the matter until Aldermen Jones, Sheldon, and Huchholz, who were absent from last evening's session, return to the city. The meeting will be held at the call of Alderman Dunn. Further time was granted for the consideration of Kate Hether's claim for $500; also for Jeroniah Hether's claim for satisfaction for injuries which he is alleged to have sustained in a horse and buggy upset in the clock-holes and gulleys two feet deep on Logan avenue.

 New Assistant Street Commissioner Edward Smith, retired railroad lineman, was appointed as assistant street commissioner to succeed the late Daniel Sheridan and the appointment was confirmed.

Final reports on the plans and specifications for the new building on Champion street from Pleasant to Hayes street, and for the grading of Logan street from Taylor street to Forest street boulevard, were submitted and objections and suggestions called for.
 No property-holder appeared to register any protest and the council proceeded to approve the assessment of benefits. The city's share of the expense for the first named improvement was fixed at $76.80 and for the latter, at $87.06.

Supt. George T. Croft of the stone crusher plant reported that 632 yards of the material had been delivered during the two weeks ending August 31.

Street and sidewalk grades for South Pearl street from Pleasant to North street were filed by City Engineer Kerch and accepted. By an order the engineer was directed to lay a sidewalk grade for the east side of Garfield avenue from Racine to Clark street.

The city clerk was directed by another order to purchase two carloads of paving brick.

Orders For Street Commissioner.
 Street Commissioner James Bennett was directed by orders to serve notice on the owners of lots 1-7, block 7;
 lots 1-5, block 13; lots 1-7, block 20;
 lots 1-4, block 21; lots 1-4, block 26
 of Smith's addition to build standard walks in front of their property on South Pearl street, and it was directed that the same gentle invitations should be extended to the owners of lots 3, 4, 8, 9, and 10, in Lovejoy's addition on Highland avenue. On occasion of Ald. O'Brien, a former order directing the building of a standard walk in front of lot 13, Pense's addition, was rescinded.

Furthermore, the street commissioner was directed to build cement gutters on 8 Franklin street on the north side of Pleasant on the south side of West Milwaukee street, across Marion street, and on South Jackson street; repair or rebuild, if necessary, the box culvert across Milwaukee street on the east side of Pauline street, and clean Terrace street from Racine street to Mineral Point avenue.

The city treasurer was directed to transfer $137.50 from the general fund to the fire and water fund in payment for 500 feet of firehose turned over to the street department.

Consolidation of Water Main.
 On motion of Ald. Morrill of the fire and water committee the petition received from certain citizens for an extension of the water mains to the corner of Milwaukee avenue and Liberty street (now Third street) was laid on the table. It was the chairman's opinion that if enough citizens in that locality wanted the water the company would lay the pipes without being directed to do so by the council.

F. J. Mount Buys Booth.
 Several proposals for the purchase of the abandoned first ward voting booth in the Washington school yard.
 F. J. Mount offered $5 and M. Reed was willing to pay $61. On motion the Mount proposal was accepted.

Saloon License Transfer.
 Adam Holt was granted permission to transfer his license for a saloon at 22 North Academy street to Charles L. Carpenter and the bonds of the latter were found in due form and accepted.

Routine Business.
 The finance committee made its usual report on bills and the quarterly report of Chief Engineer H. C.
 Klein was received and placed on file.

In Appreciation.
 Just before adjournment Ald. Sheridan arose and expressed to the council his deep appreciation of the kindness of the city officials in sending flowers for the funeral of his brother, the late Assistant Street Commissioner, Daniel Sheridan. Mayor Heddes responded, saying that all had been glad to do the little left for them to do for a fellow officer who had been engaged in the city's work.

ALARMS FOR YEAR TOTAL FORTY-EIGHT

And Losses During the Last Quarter
Have Been Exceedingly Small, According to Fire Chief's Report.

As regards fire losses, the report from the department received by the council last evening shows that the city has cause for self-congratulation.
 The full text:
 To the Honorable, the Mayor, and Common Council.
 Gentlemen: I herewith submit my quarterly report as Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, and it is with pleasure that I can report that the fire losses during the last quarter have been exceedingly small. While the number of fires and fire alarms have been more than the average of former years, for a like period of time.

Since January 1, 1907, the department has responded to forty-eight (48) alarms of fire, of which twenty-five were bell alarms and the balance telephone or "still" alarms.

At this time I have no recommendations to make, except that some action be taken on those that were made in some of my previous reports. In those reports I called the attention of the Common Council to some matters that I think are of vital importance to our property holders, and I will respectfully ask that they be given due consideration.

Respectfully submitted,
H. C. KLEIN,
 Chief Engineer.

DAY PREVIOUS TO FAIR OPENING BUSY

Officers of Rock County Association and Its Employees Worked Overtime Monday.
 Janesville, Wis., Sept. 2.—This is without doubt the busiest day of the year in Janesville, as tomorrow, Tuesday, Sept. 3, will be the opening day of the Rock County Fair. The managers are exceedingly busy and have done and are doing everything possible to make the fair a complete success. Entry clerks are kept busy as exhibits are pouring in and indications are that the display in the various departments will be good. Tomorrow will be Children's Day and one of the attractions for the forenoon will be a ball game at ten o'clock between the Janesville and Edgerton high school teams. The races in the afternoon consist of pony races, those competing being owned by Fred and Chester Miller, Vic Holmes, the Griffin ponies and others. The races will take place each day as advertised on the program, horses being entered from Independence, Iowa, Elkhorn, Madison, Delavan, Janesville and Monroe, and probably others will come. In addition to the advertised program Mayor Becker of Milwaukee will be here Wednesday and speak to the crowd at 1 p. m.

A LABORLESS AGE.
 With all the ingenuity of inventors, we have not yet reached the laborless age, even if we have wireless telegraphy and horseless carriages. But having good bread rolls and biscuits in Janesville has become so easy since the advent of the cleanly BEN HUR FLOUR that it practically eliminates all the disagreeable features of baking day. The use of BEN HUR FLOUR means better bread, better biscuits, better rolls and a successful baking always. Certainly it is easier to work and work well when success is assured. Every grocer in Janesville sells BEN HUR FLOUR.

Otto Clement Opened Vein on Inside of Left Thigh and Nearly Bled to Death Yesterday Afternoon.

Otto Clement, a young married man residing at 73 Pearl street, was seriously injured in a peculiar manner yesterday afternoon. While playing dominoes with some companions he accidentally stabbed himself with the jack-knife, opening a large vein located in the inner side of the left thigh. His friends rushed him to the back kitchen of Mrs. E. Mc-Carthy's restaurant at 276 West Milwaukee street where an unsuccessful effort was made to staunch the flow of blood, (the cord being cut on the wrong side of the wound) while callers were sent for a physician. Dr. M. A.
 Cunningham and Dr. Charles Sutherland answered the summons and soon had the wound properly dressed.
 He was reported this morning to be very weak from the loss of blood but much better. Mrs. Clement was in the hospital at the time the accident occurred.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT HIGH SCHOOL

INCREASED ENROLLMENT AT BE-GINNING OF NEW YEAR.

STUDY BEGINS TOMORROW

Inaugural Sessions in Graded Schools Held This Morning.

Hells in the various graded schools of the city this morning sounded the bell of the "long vacation" and announced the reopening of another school year. Nearly two thousand scholars, ranging in age from five to twenty-one years, assembled at the high school and in the ward buildings. In the grades the students were told what textbooks and supplies to secure and after being assigned seats were dismissed. They will return tomorrow and begin actual study. At the high school the entire morning and a part of the afternoon were spent in organization. As usual the students found seats by classes.
 No effort to seat the young ladies and young men to maintain the best order will be made for several days.

Many from Country.
 The enrollment at the high school shows an attendance of four hundred.
 This is an increase over the rolls of the past three years. Last year 360 were present the first day and the actual attendance for the year was 382. The number of students from without the city, that is, from the surrounding rural communities, and villages is the largest in the history of the school. Formerly 75 was the record, which was set last year. Of the total number 132 are freshmen or first-year students. Thirty of these are entered in the manual training course, 23 in the domestic science, 29 in the commercial, 25 in the three classical and 25 in the science and English. The domestic science class is the largest on record; the manual training is also larger than usual; the commercial is smaller, forty having entered last year; the classical is of ordinary size, while the English and science, which are the same the first two years, show a decrease.

Notes of High School.
 There is but one change in the high school faculty since last year, the manual training instructor being newly appointed. When D. D. Mangrove, head of the commercial department, entered the main room this morning he was greeted with smiles of congratulation, having just returned from his honeymoon trip. Superintendent H. C. Klein gave the instructions and admonitions customary at the opening of the school year. Among other things he advised the football team candidates not to buy suits until they were sure of being able to play under the rules which demands good scholarship for athletes. The football team will probably begin practicing some time next week. E. J. Hunsicker, taking charge as coach and manager.
 The various literary societies will be organized within a few days.

MANY SPENT THE HOLIDAY AT LINKS

Mixed Foursomes, Putting Contests, Bridge Whist, Baseball, and Dancing Were the Varied Attractions.

There was a steady procession of automobiles and other vehicles to the Sunnyside golf links yesterday afternoon and those who went thither to pursue the little gutta serena balls over the green turf, to putt, to play baseball and bridge whist, to swap anecdotes, or to dance, all thanks to the house committee, found plenty of employment for their talents. Hundsons trophies had been hung up for nearly everything except the anecdotes and the contests in all lines of endeavor were spirited. There were six tables of bridge whist and Mrs.
 J. L. Wilcox captured the first prize and Miss Vera Wilcox, the second.

Eight couples were entered in the mixed foursomes. Orlean Sutherland and Miss Belle Maclean were tied with Colla Maclean and Mrs. W. G.
 Wheeler for the best net score and they will play off the tie next Tuesday.
 Frank Pfeiffer and Miss Katherine P.
 Held and Al Schaller and Mrs. A. J.
 Harris who played at scratch made the best gross score, both couples making the course in 51. Leo Brown-nell and Miss Elizabeth Wilcox with a handicap of 4 made a gross score of 53 and net score of 49. Mr. Sutherland and Miss Maclean had a handicap of 6 and their gross score was 52. Harry Carter and Miss Marie Jackson, with a handicap of 6, made the course in 54; net score, 48. A. P.
 Hunsicker and Miss Elizabeth Schicker with a handicap of 7, made the course in 55; net score 48. Mr. Maclean and Mrs. Wheeler with a handicap of 8, made the course in 54; net score 46. W. G. Wheeler and Miss Maudie Jackson, with a handicap of 12, made the course in 61; net score
 49. In the putting contest Mrs. J. L.
 McGiffin carried off the first prize and Miss Wilma McGiffin was awarded the runner-up trophy.

Over sixty partook of the beautiful supper served by Chief Lynch and many went out in the evening to dance to Roy Carter's music. The festivities were in full swing until midnight and there was just enough time in the air to make dancing doubly enjoyable.
 Among the out of town guests were Miss Jean Stearns of Chicago who is a guest at the A. J. Harris home, Judge and Mrs. John Adams of Deloit, Mrs. A. C. Bearup of Evanston who is visiting at the home of her nephew, Charles Schaller, Mrs. Horace Dyer of St. Louis, J. E. Baugan of Milwaukee, and E. B. Washburn of Hinsdale.

 inventing occupations for themselves, one of the newest being that of puppy requires six months of hard study, and it ought to be an interesting one.

Not on the Program: An automobile trip to Beloit with two local men and too many companions with the cheering cup last night prevented two of the musical comedy chorists from arriving in time for rehearsal at the theatre last night. One was not in condition to go through her part when she did arrive and had to be assisted to her room. The manager, whose attention was called to the incident, summarily dismissed both young women from the company. Later, one of them pleaded with tears to be forgiven but her plea was in vain.

FOUR PERFORMANCES OF TWO ODD FARCES

"Alphonse and Gaston" Held the Boards at the Myers Theatre Yesterday—"Ma's New Husband" on Saturday.

"Alphonse and Gaston," a comedy sketch better in fulfillment than the promise of its title, was played before good sized audiences at the Myers theatre yesterday afternoon and evening. William Devere and Lillian Allen as "Mr. and Mrs. Brown," J. A. Fisk, and several others were very acceptable in their respective parts. There were some good lines and situations in the play and it was well staged and costumed. The name-part gentlemen from France were, of course, the same as Saturday afternoon and evening the "unlucky foolhardiness—Ma's New Husband" also pleased good sized audiences. It was a comedy of errors—far fetched and very funny errors—and the alleged plot ought to be thrown away. John Woodford was good in his portrayal of the bogus tutor—a grotesque reminder of Richard C. C. in "The Tenderfoot," and Nadyne Shannon played considerable cleverness in the role of the awkward girl.

Jabez came visited relatives here yesterday, returning to Chicago this morning.

JOHN G. SHEDD, the managing partner of the great house of Marshall Field and Company testified before the Board of Review of Cook county three years ago last April that the firm had only $1,000 to its credit in the bank. He said that their receipts and expenditures were so nicely adjusted that that was all they needed. Whether you have $1,000, more or less, on deposit with us, that is your business and it is a principle of our business and one strictly observed, to keep what we know about your business to ourselves. In other words, your dealings with this bank are strictly confidential whether you borrow or deposit, or merely ask for advice. We pay 3 per cent interest on certificates of deposit.

CHAPTER XVII.

DIFFERING STANDARDS.

"THE battle which will take place tonight yonder between these ships decides my fate. I hope to God I may arrive in time to take my part in it! The Richard is fearfully short of officers at best; Landata, who has the Alliance, is crazy and a coward; Cottineno in the Fallus is an unknown quantity, and the rest have fled. Jones has only Richard and a lot of midshipmen with him upon whom he can absolutely depend, and there are over two hundred prisoners in the hold. He needs me. If this breeze holds on I think we may intercept the Richard before the battle is joined. Success, or never before, for the success of our arms! It means life, and you, for me."

"I mean life for me as well," she answered, nestling against him and nerving herself up to the inevitable confession. How he would take it she did not know, or rather she would not permit herself to say. She was conscious only of an impelling necessity to tell him the whole story, though she had deliberately waited until she believed he could do nothing.

"Ah, yes, the secret of you to my son, but not the same. No they will hang, but not you," she answered fondly.

"Yes, they will," she replied. "I must confess it to you before we go further. It weighs upon me. I also am guilty."

"Guilty? You? Of what, pray? Of loving me too much?" he queried, laughing in pure lightness of heart.

"No, not that," she answered, "but that—that order—your reprieve. It was—the admiral did sign it," she added desperately.

"The secret was out,"

"And who did it, then?" he asked, still unimpressed by her murmuring.

"I did it myself," she answered, with averted head.

"It is not possible!" he exclaimed, withdrawing from her a little in his astonishment.

"Twas for you—for you I did it. I thought you said—'I am not a man to take to my defense myself,' she cried, on fire to defend herself and her love, now the truth was told. "Captain Jones said six hours' delay and you were saved. There was no other way. I begged, implored, entreated the admiral. He left me—went away. I saw the man fling that black—the rope—I ran to him to make one more appeal. He was not moved. On his desk was an order giving me permission to see you, which he had intended to give me and had refused at the last moment and left unopened. He was there and his seat. I added the rest and signed and sealed it myself. Do not shrink from me," she pleaded, with changing mood again.

"Your anger—your disappointment—fills me. Is there no excuse that you can find for me?" Her appeal was so tender, her affection so apparent, she was her own justification.

"No man would have done it," he said irresolutely, wavering.

"But every woman would," she replied promptly, pressing her advantage. "Why are you so silent? Your precious honor is safe, and as for mine—"

"Twas nobly done," he answered at last, in complete surrender. "There is not a woman in the world but would honor you for it. Not a man who would not love you. You have done that which I could not, and for me, my heart before, and now my life is yours, my heart's dearest."

"I knew you would not like it," she answered simply, "but there was no other way. I confess I was terrified when Edward—"

"Good heavens!" cried O'Neill. "He did not reply to a word he said softly, and he discovered that she was asleep. He did not wonder. The experiences of the past few days would have killed any ordinary woman. How heroic she had been! With what abandon she had put aside everything for the purpose of saving him! She had hesitated at nothing. The love for her was measured by his honor; hers for him was boundless. "Twas ever so, and he had reproached her, spoken harshly to her, upbraided her, turned away from her! How could he have been so cruel! She was so young, his heart yearned over her. He vowed that if God did permit them to escape from the perils which environed them he would make up to her for every unkind word spoken, every reproach, every cutting glance, by an eternity of devotion."

The night, the ocean, the loneliness, impressed him. What had he ever done to be so blessed in the love of this noble woman? His life, as he had said, had been an idle one. In the courts he had played at hearts as he had played at war on the ships—for the fun of the game. With her a serious purpose had entered his life and was before him. The silence of the night was broken only by the soft splash of the waves as the little boat rocked gently through them. The gentle wind grew fainter and fainter. Presently the flap of the tide sail against the mast appeared like that it had gone.

The white Seraph and her consort were far, far ahead, going fast and leaving a long white wake across the sea. They seemed to have kept the breeze which had failed the small boat. Coming up from the southward he could see the black shapes of the Richard and her attendant ships. What would he have given to be upon the deck by the side of that daintiest captain! But even could he approach the two ships that privilege would be denied him, for honor demanded that he present himself upon the deck of the Seraph without delay. It might be that it would be too late even then to save Coventry, but he would go and do his best. When the boat lost way he sat a moment in indecision. He was so loath to waken the tired girl, but it was necessary. Gently he rubbed her head.

"Why, my dearest," she said, "was I asleep? What has happened? Oh!—It came back to her—"You are going back to the Seraph." Then she looked eagerly forward. "The ships were far off now, several miles away, and as the breeze still held with them the distance was increasing with every passing moment."

"We do not advance," she cried, a note of joy in her voice as her eye detected the flapping of the sail. "The wind has died out. She laughed triumphantly. "We shall never reach them."

"And poor Coventry?" said O'Neill. "I cannot help it," she answered simply. "I think only of you. Now, if I could go back alone and take his place and let you go free I would cheerfully do that."

Two Historic Cabarets.

Two old Scotch cabarets, each with an interesting history of its own, will be included in the porcelain sale at Christie's, says a writer in the Pall Mall Gazette. The first, painted with festoons of flowers, was formerly the property of Marie Antoinette, and was given to George Earl of Essex, and by him to Miss Fanny Kelly, the actress, in 1818, from whom it descended to the present owner, who is Miss Kelly's adopted daughter. The second, painted with musical and amatory trophies, was presented by George IV. when Prince of Wales to Mrs. Robinson, the celebrated actress, and at the sale of her husband's effects was purchased by John Graham. In the same sale will be found a Chippendale mahogany bookcase, exquisitely carved, which was formerly at the Kensington palace, in the room in which George II. died.

Quite Likely.

It is true that Edgar Allan Poe failed to get admission to the Hall of Fame, but then he doesn't need it so much as some others who have gained the honor. —Somerville Journal.

Comparison.

"Do principal objection to most mules," said Uncle Eben, "is de way dey gits obstinate an' kicks. An' it might als be mentioned dat dats de principal objection to most human folk."

They cure sick kidneys.

They cure backache, every kidney ail.

Here is Janesville evidence to prove it.

Mrs. Thos. Bowles, of 217 South Main St., Janesville, Wis., says: "My husband used Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney troubles and backache and found more relief thereby than from any of the other remedies he used for the trouble. Since taking one box obtained at the People's Drug Co., he has entirely recovered from those which had bothered him for a number of years. The continuous dull pain under making him helpless, particularly when getting out of a chair or stooping to pick up anything. Before he used your remedy, it was almost impossible for him to regain an upright position without using some support. He has not been troubled in this way since taking Doan's Kidney Pills."

Restless Nervous

Do you get up in the morning tired, languid, and frequently with headache almost unbearable? You have been unable to rest or sleep. It is nervous exhaustion, and affects the heart, lungs, stomach and all the organs that depend upon the nerves for motive power. What you need is Dr. Miles' Nervine to restore nervous energy and give new life to the organs.

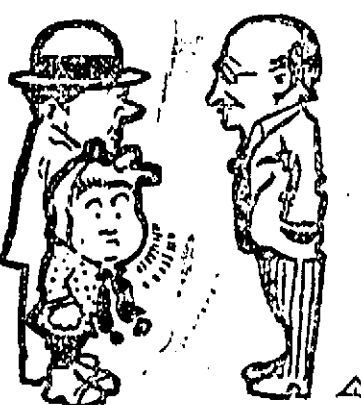

"For years I have been very nervous, suffered terribly with headache, and almost always gone to the doctor, but was about to give up one day to try him for the last time, when a friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Nervine. I purchased a bottle and the results were so satisfactory I have been taking it ever since. It has helped me wonderfully. Dr. Miles' Nervine and Liver Pills have done lots of good for me. When I get to feeling nervous now, I go for the Nervine bottle and I am so thankful I have something to help me without a doctor bill."

New Interest in Chemistry.

The establishment of pure food commissions has inspired many young men to take up the study of chemistry with a view to securing a position on one of these commissions. Scores of men, who already have qualified for the regular drug store trade are now devoting additional time to the study of extra courses in chemistry. All hope to gain a federal appointment as an expert on pure foods. Not more than one-third of the ambitious fellows now immersed in experimental laboratories will get the position they are working for, but the public will profit indirectly by their present enthusiasm because every last one of them will become more competent druggists through their studies of the adulterations of foods.

Belling a Rat.

You have probably read or heard that the best way to rid a house of rats is to catch one and fasten a bell about its neck. A boy in Delaware tried the experiment two months ago. He was badly bitten in making the first rat, but he turned the rat loose and expected the thinking of that bell would have great results. It did have. In the first place, the rat who wore it was constantly on the move all night, and the thinking bell kept the family awake, and in the next the sounds brought scores of new rats to the house. Instead of being afraid of the bell, they were charmed with the music. Had the boy tied a harmonica to another rat's tail, the rodents would have had a dance every night.

LESS POLITICS; MORE BUSINESS

FAIRBANKS' PLCA IN ADDRESS AT IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

COMMON SENSE NEEDED

President Roosevelt Sends Hearty Message of Congratulation to the Gathering in Sacramento.

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 2.—The nation is in danger of being dragged by politics and stands in need of more commercialism, according to Vice President Fairbanks, who Monday addressed the national irrigation congress here. Continued prosperity is assured, the speaker declared, unless the public is led astray by false doctrines.

"Upon such an occasion as this I would not venture to obtrude politics; nothing could be more inappropriate," said the speaker. "The fact is that we have a surplus of politics. What we need most is more business and less politics."

Warning Against Doctrinaires.
"Unless the business affairs of the people are created by unwise policies; unless the seeds of distrust are sown among ourselves; unless commercial unrest is encouraged by doctrinaires, we shall continue to expand our industries and the great west will continue to grow and fulfill her mighty destiny. Can we stand prosperity? We are in the midst of a prosperity the like of which was never before seen. Can we utilize it to our benefit? Can we retain it, or will we distrust each other and involve it all in hopeless confusion?"

Appeal to Sober Judgment.
"There never was an hour when it was more important that we should be governed by sober judgment. We should earnestly cultivate a tolerant spirit and a spirit of justice toward each other. We should not forget that confidence is the sure foundation of prosperity and progress and we should have a cure that we do not undermine it."

"Our rapidly multiplying industries and increasing population give rise to new questions which tax the wisdom and patriotism of our people. In recent years we have discovered the evils which inhere in our commerce between the states. Under the sharp and certain condemnation of the written law, we have sought to extirpate them in the interest of fair play."

Message from President.
Clifford Pinchot, government forest officer and personal representative of President Roosevelt at the congress, delivered the message of the country's chief executive, which came by telegraph. Following is the message in part:

"Gentlemen: I send you hearty congratulations and my warmest wishes for the fullest success of your convention. I congratulate you on the progress of the great movement you represent. There is no movement more emphatically for the benefit of the small farmer and the small ranchman. The reclamation service and the forest service are directly adapted to help the small man and maintain a prosperous home; and they are doing it. These services were recently inspected on the ground by the secretary of the interior and the secretary of agriculture, who have them in charge, and I congratulate you on the high standards of integrity and efficiency they have attained."

PLAGUE DEATH IN BERKELEY.
Woman Succumbs to Pest—War on Rats Prosecuted.

San Francisco, Sept. 2.—The health board reports an additional death from bubonic plague and two additional cases under suspicion since Saturday. The death was that of a woman and occurred in Berkeley, across the bay from San Francisco. This case falls within the limits of the statement by the plague authorities that all ports on the Pacific coast having intercourse with trans-Pacific points are subject to periodic appearances of the disease.

The rat war here is being prosecuted with energy and success under the system adopted last week by which the city is divided into 12 districts, each in charge of a physician, inspector and assistants. This and other precautionary measures will be pressed vigorously while the outbreak lasts.

PADUCAH BUILDING FALLS.
Man Buried in Debris But Is Not Badly Injured.

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 2.—Without warning, the American Express company building collapsed at 5:10 Monday afternoon. A. F. Ingersoll, agent for the express company, was caught in the debris and it required more than two hours to dig him out. He was not badly injured. Three other attaches of the office escaped unhurt.

Shanghai Will Welcome Taft.
Shanghai, Sept. 2.—Preparations are on foot to give Secretary Taft a big reception upon his arrival here. Thirty-two Chinese corporations of this city are participating in the movement, which has been approved by the viceroy. The project is not official, and is regarded as a distinct evidence of the friendly feeling existing here toward the United States.

The American farmers' earnings are $1,000,000,000 greater this year than last, according to a preliminary report on crops which will be published in the next issue of the American Agriculturalist. This big gain will be entirely due to the increased prices of farm products, as the production in general will be fully ten per cent. less in quantity than in 1906.

JEWS ARE SLAIN IN ODESSA.

Black Hundreds Riot and Commit Many Brutal Excesses.

Odesa, Sept. 2.—The Black Hundreds began rioting here Monday afternoon, alleging that the Jews were responsible for the explosion of the bomb in the courtyard of the central police station Saturday morning, resulting in the deaths of an artillery officer and four policemen, although it was stated at the time that the bomb was accidentally dropped by the officer. The rioters ran through the streets inhabited by Jews, shooting promiscuously. Several Jews were killed and injured.

The mob indulged in other brutal excesses and beat down many victims with flexible rubber sticks. The Jewish cemetery, where thousands of Jews were praying at the gravesides of their dead, was the scene of a fierce onslaught by members of the Black Hundreds, who shot down many of the mourners with revolvers.

PRINCE WILHELM LEAVES NEW YORK

FIRST SEES FIRE DEPARTMENT
ANSWER AN ALARM.

VISITS MODEL TENEMENT

Winds Up His Strenuous Sightseeing in Metropolis with Banquet and Departs for Niagara Falls.

New York, Sept. 2.—Prince Wilhelm of Sweden bade goodbye to New York Monday night. If he missed anything of interest during his week's visit, New Yorkers do not know what it is. He has beaten all previous sightseeing records of visiting foreigners and has had a strenuous and interesting time that he will long remember.

In spite of the rain Monday morning, the prince was up and about his headquarters early. He visited fire headquarters and saw the fire department at work; he climbed its flights to the top of a model tenement house and thoroughly inspected the building and talked with the occupants; he saw the Labor day parade, inspected the Swedish emigration bureau at the barge office, rode on a municipal ferry, took luncheon on Staten Island, visited the emigrant receiving station at Ellis Island, and late at night left for Niagara Falls, after being the guest at a dinner of the Old German Students' association at the Arion club.

See Fire Department at Work.
The prince and party reached fire headquarters in automobiles at 11 o'clock and were shown over the entire building. Wilhelm was particularly interested in the fire alarm system and was much pleased when an alarm came in just as the operator reached the proper point in his explanation. The royal visitor will probably never know that the alarm was a false one which was "rung in" for his especial benefit.

Following the inspection of the building, the visitors took positions on the sidewalk opposite the doors of the engine house and another alarm was rung in. The prince, holding a huge umbrella to keep off the heavy rain, watched the engine come out, make a short run, couple up and throw a stream of water 100 feet in the air. The working of the fire department, he said, was one of the most interesting things he has seen in New York.

Visits Model Tenement.
Having become thoroughly familiar with the homes of the rich at New York, Prince Wilhelm expressed a desire to see how the other half lives in America. Therefore a visit to a model tenement house was a part of the program. The party, guided by Health Commissioner Darlington, was taken to a tenement house at Forty-second street and Tenth avenue. Here the prince climbed to the sixth floor and inspected the building carefully. He was anxious to see if there were any of his own people in the building, and was led to a flat occupied by two elderly Swedish women. He chatted with them for some time regarding their mode of life and was pleased to see pictures of several of the members of the Swedish royal family on the walls of the flat.

The Swedish minister, Herman De Lagercrantz, found to his surprise that one of the women had been a nurse years ago in the family of his aunt in Sweden.

California's Possibilities.
William E. Curtis, writing from San Francisco, says the natural resources of California would provide amply for a population of 50,000,000.

How She Was Won

(Original.)

It was about 1830 that Alphonse Normandin came to New Orleans from Paris. He had fought sixteen duels and had killed nine of his antagonists. Friends or relatives of his victims had several times sought to take a life for a life, but they had all been wounded or killed. The truth was that Normandin was so skilled in all weapons, especially fitted with eyes, delicacy of touch and nerve, that he was invincible.

One evening Normandin was sitting with friends in a cafe adjoining a hall where a masked ball was in progress. A man dressed to represent Mephistopheles and wearing a mask entered, walked straight up to the table where Normandin was seated, took up a glass of wine standing on the table before the duelist and threw it in his face.

Normandin pulled. "This was the first time in his life that he had been thus deliberately insulted. Whipping the wind off his face, he half arose and asked:

"Who are you, sir?"

"The devil."

"Take off your mask."

"That I will do when I have killed you. You shall look upon my face as you pass below to my kingdom."

"I do not fight with unknown persons."

"You shall do so now or I will kill you where you sit."

"And if I fight?"

"I will kill you anyway."

Those sitting about noticed that Normandin was not his usual self. Attempting to look unconcerned, he put his thumb and finger on the stem of a wineglass and raised it to his lips. His hand trembled.

"When and where can my seconds find you?" he asked of his enemy.

"Now and here." Turning to two gentlemen in evening dress who had entered with him, he added, "These will accommodate you." Then he went and sat down at a table in a corner of the room while the arrangements were being made. Normandin wished delay, but the stranger said:

"Now," Normandin, however, though the challenger, was allowed the choice of weapons, for his enemy said that since he was going to kill him it made no difference with what weapon he did the deed. This added to Normandin's loss of nerve. He had intended to choose a short sword, with which few persons were practiced and with which he was an expert, but he had never before known a case where the challenger had been given the choice of weapons. This was supreme indifference.

Within an hour after the insult had been given the principals were fighting in a large unfurnished room forming the whole top story of a dwelling house, lighted by lamps. The stranger still wore his devil's dress and was masked. Short weapons were in the hands of both adversaries. The stranger showed skill in fencing, but not extraordinary skill. Normandin was plainly out of nerve. This made an even contest of it. They fenced for some time without either getting the advantage. But there was a certain spring in the stranger which increased, while Normandin was heavy and growing heavier. There was something unmanly in the devil's costume. The mouth of the mask was cut to represent a leer, and through two holes above a pair of glittering eyes looked out, it seemed to Normandin, in malicious triumph.

"You can't kill me, nor I you," said Normandin presently. "It is a draw."

Normandin's seconds looked at each other in surprise.

"I shall kill you," replied the other confidently.

"When?"

"Now."

Gathering his strength, he made a lunge and showed his sword up to the hilt in Normandin's breast. As Normandin fell the stranger took off his mask.

"I am the friend," he said, "of young Alphonse Morel, the last of your victims. In killing him you broke the heart of the young girl to whom he was engaged. I determined to avenge her. I knew you to be only vulnerable through your nerve. I have attacked your nerve and have beaten you. I am but a fair swordsman."

Normandin made no reply, for he was dying. He continued to stare at the speaker till his eyes became glazed. Then the latter, handling his weapon to his second, got into a carriage and was driven away.

This was neither the first nor the last act in a drama of which it was a part. The first is this:

Alphonse Morel, a young man who had just come of age, wooed and won Eugenie Lefevre, the daughter of a wealthy cotton broker of New Orleans. Another suitor was Captain Rowell Tracey of the United States engineers, on duty in the Crescent City and fifteen years older than Morel. When Tracey heard that his successful rival had fallen a victim that Normandin might keep up in New Orleans the role he had played in Paris, he began a series of investigations, with a view to punishing the murderer. He found that Normandin was a wanderer with every weapon. Proceeding, however, on the theory that such men are dependent on their nerve, he resolved to make an effort in that direction.

All New Orleans rejoiced that the Frenchman had been put out of the way from doing any more harm, and one of the first to hear of the duel was Eugenie Lefevre. Of the meeting after it occurred between her and Captain Tracey there is no mention, but it must have been one to stir the deepest emotions in the young girl. Certain it is that at the expiration of a year Miss Lefevre became Mrs. Captain Tracey. ESTHER BENTON.

"Are you afraid I'll break it, dad?"

"No, I'm afraid you won't."—Jester.

Origin of Modern Etiquette.

This custom originated in the eleventh century, when, assassination being unethically frequent, married men courtedly encouraged their wives to go before them.—Sketch.

Passes the Limit.
A man may have an intense love for children, but it all departs for a time when he catches the aftermath of molasses candy on the doorknob.

Midget Oak Trees.
Little oak trees, an inch and a half in height, are grown by Chinese gardeners. They take root in thumb-nails.

Here's a contrast that ought to appeal to the head of any family.

On one side of the road—the deadly lightning—on the other side—safety.

One man avoided damage by using the Dodd & Struthers lightning rods.

Another man figured that his insurance made him safe, but lightning struck his house and it burned down.

We cannot tell whether he and his family are safe or not, but we do know that his insurance will not pay his loss and we know that it has not made his home a safe place in which to live.

Insurance is a good thing but it will not keep out the lightning.

You put on a roof to keep out the rain. Why not put on our lightning rods to keep out the lightning? It can be done just as effectively.

It will not cost you a great deal and never costs you but once, for Dodd & Struthers rods are made of pure copper, they do not rust and there are no joints, so they cannot come apart and once put on the building they always stay there.

Three-fourths of the damage done to farm buildings is caused by lightning. You cannot afford to take this risk when absolute protection can be had.
